

Testimonials from our Clients

“I have known Simone Maxwell for 13 years! While I was busy getting ready to start my business, I received the best and most detailed advice from Miss Maxwell which helped my business to become successful and achieve growth. I contacted Maxwell Consulting recently for assistance with a business plan and was very impressed with level of service and efficiency of the dealings with this company. My business benefited tremendously from the critical analysis that was received. Her business insight is highly appreciated and was very clear. I really feel as though Maxwell Consulting is a part of my team and words cannot explain how appreciative I am of the fact that a company could care so much about the success of my venture. Thank you!”

“Simone has helped SLT Premier Services achieve amazing growth over the past few months. Maxwell Consulting created an exceptional business plan for our company which was approved by the Community Redevelopment Agency (CRA). It was an incredible coup for our company with some well thought out marketing, financial and overall business strategies. Simone is currently writing our grant narrative and project plans and we are absolutely sure that she'll exceed our expectations once again. We highly recommend Maxwell Consulting for any small business that needs assistance!”

“I have known Simone for nearly 10 years and she is easily one of the hardest working people that I know. Working with her in a professional context was a pleasure as I did not have to worry about her commitment to the project or providing deliverables in a timely manner. Simone is a real talent and I have every confidence in her ability to continue to produce excellent results.”

With Maxwell Consulting, your business will improve with t innovative discussions and you will see new opportunities for development, in addition to solutions for your current problems. “I have been extremely impressed with Maxwell Consulting. In the highly specialized gas distribution industry, she seized opportunities quickly and assessed key issues to put together a comprehensive business plan. Her high-energy and analytical skills allowed Oxford Agency to look at our business segments in a completely different way, and we are now leveraging their talent across the rest of our company. We are very pleased with the results!”

“I've worked with many consultants over the years, and I would rank Maxwell Consulting as one of the most insightful and strategic teams with whom I've partnered. Simone and her subcontractors effectively challenged our thinking, helped us better analyze our business insights and performance, and always ensured the team keep the consumer top of mind to drive fact-based strategic choices for our medical practice. I would recommend Maxwell Consulting to any entity that is making tough, strategic decisions to grow their business.”
